PARENT'S GUIDE: ARROW CREATIVE SUMMER CAMP 2022

Welcome to ACSC '22!

CAMP PHILOSOPHY

We are excited you're joining us for camp at Arrow Creative this summer! Arrow Creative is part of a world-wide experiential action sports collective with a leading role in supporting youth culture and action sports. We strive to empower and inspire the next generation by stoking the passions of the most passionate athletes. We build innovative environments to encourage exploration in sport and promote self discovery. We create intuitive programming that encourages you to discover your passions and paths with the freedom to try, learn and progress on your own terms. And we cultivate passionate staff who share unmatched stoke by creating unique and fun experiences.

This parent guide is designed to help you prepare for your Arrow Creative Summer Camp experience. There are several policies and expectations explained throughout this guide. Please review this guide and share appropriate information with your camper. We will email you all required forms approximately 30 days prior to camp (Health Form, Authorized Pick Up Form, etc.).

THE ARROW WAY

The Arrow Way describes the values of our co-ed camp community so that everyone engages in positive behaviors that support a safe, inclusive and fun environment. Arrow expects all campers to:

1. Be kind to others and treat others as you want to be treated. Please refrain from fighting, aggressive or threatening behavior, bullying, or harassment of any sort.
2. Always listen to your coach and other Arrow Staff. Come to them for help and ask lots of questions.

6. Respect property and refrain from stealing, graffiti and vandalism of any kind.

We appreciate your understanding of The Arrow Way and look forward to ensuring each camper develops and contributes to a positive camp environment. Violating the Arrow Way may result in disciplinary action including sending a camper home immediately and with no refund.

COVID-19 PROTOCOLS

All campers must wear a face mask while at Arrow. Arrow will have some paper masks available if they forget. If at any point your child feels ill, please keep them home and email our Programs Manager at spieh@arrowcreative.org. Arrow will clean surfaces between classes and sanitize tools.

Arrow believes that individuals thrive at camp when they're healthy and happy. Illness is a time for resting safely and comfortably at home. Staying home when you're sick protects you from more significant health issues and protects others from a potentially communicable disease by eliminating the exposure.

Campers should arrive to camp energized, nourished, healthy, and hydrated. Arrow reserves the right to not admit persons who pose a communicable disease risk to others. It is our goal for all camp participants to experience Arrow when they're healthy so they can have the best possible time.

This Illness Policy protects individuals and the camp community by reducing the spread of disease. It enables all of us to enjoy camp by keeping health and safety as our top priority. We trust our camp families to follow this policy and contact us anytime there's a question. When in doubt, stay home and stay safe.

INCIDENTS DURING CAMP

If your child sustains an injury or illness while at camp, we will notify parents if any of the following occur:

- Your child has been OR will be held from participation for more than an hour
- Your child has a fever, shortness of breath or is vomiting (requires pick up immediately)
- Your child has sustained a head injury
- Your child needs to be sent off campus for medical treatment

DROP-OFF

Drop-off will begin at 8:45am for the morning camp sessions and 12:15pm for afternoon sessions. Please notify us via email (spieh@arrowcreative.org) or phone (901-213-6320) if you are going to arrive late. Parents must be wearing a mask if entering the building. Here are some important details about drop-off:

- Arrow moved locations in March and is located at 653 Philadelphia St. If you or your child require a wheelchair accessible ramp, please use 650 New York St as the address and come through the side parking lot to the entrance.
- Parents will be required to sign their child in at Drop-Off and show ID at pickup. If the person picking up your child is different from the person dropping them off, please notify me via email (spieh@arrowcreative.org) and/or at the time of drop-off.

We are truly excited and honored to engage with your child while at camp. Please reach out any time if you have questions, concerns and other feedback.

PICK UP

Daily pick-up is promptly at 12 noon for morning sessions and 3:30pm for afternoon sessions. Authorized individuals with valid identification are the only people who can check-out your child. We require parents and other authorized individuals to present a government issued I.D. during pick up. Please notify us via email (spieh@arrowcreative.org) or phone (901-213-6320) if you are going to arrive early or late for pick up. Here are some important details about check-out:

1. Authorized individuals: campers are permitted to leave only with the individuals indicated on your pick-up form. Please include the full legal name as it appears on your I.D. (“mom” or “dad” is not helpful in this instance). If permission has not been granted, we must confirm the arrangement before your child will be released. This is for the protection of your child and is strictly enforced. Changes to authorized persons must be made in writing by submitting a new pick-up form 24 hours in advance.
2. Please inquire with the camp office if you need to make arrangements for early drop off or late pick up.

WHAT TO BRING

Packing for day camp is easy. Below is a list of everything your child needs for the day. Please make sure to label all clothing, personal items and equipment with your child’s name.

- Water bottle
- Lunch *only for all day campers
- Snack*
- Clothes that can get messy or extra set

In the busy atmosphere of camp, with a lot of young children, we realize many campers may forget, lose track of or misplace their things. Therefore, we ask campers to leave personal valuables at home. This includes jewelry, phones, watches, nice clothing, cameras, games and computers.

CAMP LUNCH

If a camper is staying for both morning and afternoon sessions, please pack a lunch. If you did not include any allergies at time of registration, please notify us at the time of drop-off.
